ADAMS Course Offered to Supervisors

An Alcohol and Drug Abuse for Manager and Supervisors (ADAMS) course is scheduled for Friday, July 9, and Saturday, July 10, from 7 - 11 p.m. in Bulkeley Hall, Classrooms B and C. Uniform is civilian attire.

ADAMS for Supervisors is a two-day course for all E5 and above and 01-03 personnel in first-line supervisory positions. Department of the Navy civilians who supervise military personnel can also attend ADAMS supervisor training.

This course is designed to provide Navy supervisors with the skills and knowledge to: be a role model; prevent alcohol and drug abuse; observe individuals under their supervision; document evidence of substandard performance or misconduct; refer those individuals to the Substance Abuse Rehabilitation Program via the command DAPA for assessment; and fulfill "Aftercare" responsibilities.

In order to obtain credit for this class you must attend both days. If you are interested in attending, contact SK1 Smith at 4704/4366 or e-mail at n30i@usnbgtno.navy.mil.

Career Planning Resources: 5VMs on NKO

Navy Knowledge Online (NKO) now features access to 5 Vector Model (5VM) representations for enlisted ratings. These models, while not tailored to any particular Sailor, are accessible by all registered NKO users and serve as a resource for career path selection and planning. Initially designed to provide Learning Center 5VM Managers access, the models are an excellent resource for undesignated Sailors looking for their best-fit career path.

"This is really a great starting point for any of our junior Sailors looking for a rating, or for those looking to make a lateral transfer into another rating," said NCCM(SW/AW) Paul Pierce, Naval Personnel Development Command Claimancy Career Counselor. "Career counselors of all stripes, full-time and collateral duty, including leaders and mentors, may also find these templates useful as they guide, help and develop Sailors with their careers."

The Professional Development, Personal Development and Leadership vectors each display the Skill Objects and associated Tasks required of an individual in the chosen rating. Each Task, when opened, features links to the associated learning event, as well as listings of related Skill Sets, Abilities, Unique Knowledges, Resources, and Tools. The Certifications and Qualifications vector will not display any information because it reflects unit level training and qualifications.

"With the depth of information provided by the models, Sailors can really get a better sense of what kind of work they might be doing if they choose a particular career path," said Pierce.

To access the models from your NKO homepage, www.nko.navy.mil, click the Programs link at the bottom of the left hand menu. Then click the Sea Power 21 and Sea Warrior links to see the 5VM Manager Views.

Action Alert: Veterans Earn and Learn Act

Should the GI Bill be used for On-the-Job Training (OJT) as well as traditional schools? Thousands of service members who sign up for the Montgomery GI Bill program later find that traditional classroom training does not fit their career goals; instead they would rather move directly into the job market. The Veterans Earn and Learn Act could enhance deserved opportunities for them to take advantage of their GI Bill education benefits when participating in OJT and apprenticeship programs.

Children Journey Through Lava Lava Island

The Base Chapel was overflowing with excitement the week of June 14-18, as children of Guantanamo Bay explored Lava Lava Island Vacation Bible School (VBS).

"Our program provided fun, memorable Bible-learning activities for kids from ages 3 years through sixth grade," said RP1 Rebecca Haddock, VBS director. "Lava Lava Island was an exciting way for kids to learn more about Jesus' love. I think each and every child that attended Vacation Bible School had a great time."

"As director, I really enjoyed seeing all of the kids getting excited as they learned," said Haddock. "For those who joined us for Lava Lava Luau closing ceremony, the kids excitement showed as they sang and danced. Now, I am looking forward to next year."

It isn't too soon to start looking ahead either. According to Chapel personnel, planning for the event took about six months, but all the hard work was worth it.

"It took a lot of planning in advance and many meetings to put everything together," explained RPSA John Nham. "It was a lot of work in preparation for the lessons, but the work is worth it when you are sharing Jesus' love."

Eighty-six children attended the week-long Lava Lava Island VBS. Each day the children would gather in the chapel to dance and sing songs related to the day's topic. At the VBS's Luau, parents got to see their children in action.

According to Chaplain Francis Foley, the outstanding success of this year's VBS was due in part to three ingredients: planning on the part of Barbara Olsen, Director for See VBS, page 6

Left: Each day, children played teamwork-building games, made their own tropical treats, took on daily challenges, collected memory buddies to remind them of God's Word and made crafts to take home. Here, Allison Record works on her arts and crafts project.

GTMO Celebrates Philippine Independence

Once again, GTMO residents were treated to a riot of beautiful colors, foot-stomping music, elegant dances and delicious food. Hundreds of spectators gathered at the Downtown Lyceum Saturday, June 19 for the 106th Philippine Independence Day celebration. This marks the fourth year the event has been held on base and the first time it has been held outdoors.

Clockwise from the top: (1) Elma Singson helps perform the "Aray," a flirtatious dance that involves the graceful use of shawls and tambourines. (2) Myrna Filkins, Imelda Frye, Nelly Bryant, Rose Crane, Dianne Sibal and Lamphong Schaefer perform the "Bulaklakan," a dance of floral gardens dedicated to the Virgin Mary during the Roman Catholic Holy Week celebration. (3) Dancing the "Sayaw Sa Bangko" are Glenna Bongco, Melvin Jimenez, Leslie Rivera and Mervin Pantaleon. The dance requires its performers to dance on top of a bench roughly six inches wide. (4) Always a showstopper, the Ati-Atihan dancers dress in bright costumes and perform a tribal dance to loud drums.

Clockwise from top: (1) Randy Salacup, Reena Santos, Mervin Pantaleon, Nestor Librada, Glenna Bongco, Norman Cosino and Lucille Dela Cruz dance the "Singkil." Perhaps one of the oldest of the truly Filipino dances, it recounts the epic legend of the people of Mindanao. (2) Guest speaker Rear Adm. (ret) David Purett, Burns & Roe's vice president of government operations, welcomes the audience. (3) Performing the "Abaruray," a dance which honors the custom of a young lady offering wine to visitors, are Wilma Obedoza, Chris Lipar, Eugene Tenorio, Menie Masone and Jhun Martinez. (4) Children from the W.T. Sampson Elementary School perform a special "Bamboo Dance." (5) Juhn Martinez, Winnie De Guzman, Dory Armada and Jeric Magtanong performed the "Pandango Sa Ilaw," a popular dance of grace and balance. Dancers balance oil lamps on top of their heads and in their hands.

You Made It Happen!

A special thanks to all the VBS volunteers from your Lava Lava Island buddies!

Station Leader Meredith Sciacca reads to the children. Each day the children learned different lessons, such as strength and courage. They took daily challenges home to help practice the things they learned.

Staff; the enthusiasm of the many volunteers; and the support of the parents and children.

“With an increase in participation over last year of more than 20 percent, the program went off flawlessly,” said Foley. “We are getting rave reviews from children, parents, and the staff volunteers.”

Foley would like to especially acknowledge the hard work of RP1 Rebecca Haddock, who acted as the VBS director, Barbara Olsen, who planned the program, and RPSA John Nham and Chaplain Sharon Shaw, who were essential to the success of the program.

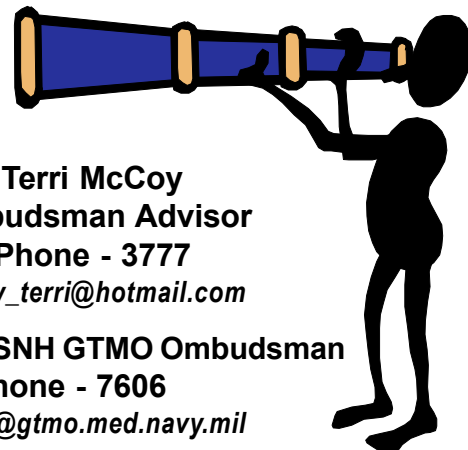

“There was no color, race, age or gender. There was just fun, faith and belief,” said Olsen. “We thank all the volunteers for their hard work, time and talent - especially the teens. We know their summer is precious to them and it took a lot for them to give up some of that time to share with the kids of Guantanamo Bay.”

It wasn't all teaching and listening. Children and adults got the chance to have a little fun while playing games outside and practicing teamwork skills.

Say Cheese! Capture Military Life on Film

ALL HANDS "Any Day in the Navy"

The October edition of ALL HANDS is the annual "Any Day in the Navy" photo issue. This year the editors are looking for photos taken between July 1, 2003 and July 1, 2004. The deadline for submissions is fast approaching...it is July 15.

ALL HANDS is looking for quality photographs that capture Sailors, Marines, Department of the Navy civilian employees, Naval Reservists and their family members at work and at play performing those daily tasks that contribute to mission accomplishment and quality of life. Selected photos will be published in the October 2000 issue of the magazine.

Navy personnel and their families have a great story to tell, and good photography can be one of the most dynamic and exciting ways to tell it. Everyone is invited to get involved and participate. It's a great forum for showcasing your command's readiness and quality of life programs.

The following rules apply: photos must be received at All Hands by July 15. Photos will not be returned. Submit processed and mounted color slides, or quality color prints, either 5x7 or 8x10. Digital images will also be accepted with a minimum pixel size of 2000x1200 (approximately 5x7 at 300 dpi). Digital images can be submitted on a Zip disk with cutlines and photo credits embedded. Zip disks will not be returned.

Commands with digital photo capability can send attached .jpg files to anyday@mediacen.navy.mil. The subject line for all such submissions should read: Any Day Submissions.

Mail submissions to: Naval Media Center, ATTN: All Hands Photo Editor, NAVDIST Washington, Anacostia Annex, 2713 Mitscher Rd., S.W., Washington DC 20373-5819. Be sure to mark all packages as "Any Day Submissions."

The following caption information is required: photographer's name, rank, duty station (include mailing address and phone number). Photograph information should include where the photo was taken, a description of what is happening in the photo, and information about the persons pictured, including first and last names, ranks/rates, warfare designations and hometowns. Captions must be attached individually to each photo or slide.

In Memoriam Juanito Z. "Tony" Narvaez

Juanito Z. "Tony" Narvaez, a Kvaerner seasoned expert equipment mechanic, leader and loyal employee here since October 1999, died Monday, June 21. He was 50.

Born in St. Cruz, Marinduque, Philippine Islands. His friends fondly called him Tony.

Tony joined Kvaerner Process Services, Inc. in Oct 1999. Through the years with this company he had consistently proven to be a 'go-to' person when the repair to a piece of downed equipment was desperately needed to accomplish urgent work in the field. Tony would improvise, devise and miraculously overcome any parts or engineering challenges that would otherwise prevent the speedy repairs. His optimism was manifested in his ever-present, infectious smile and 'can do' attitude.

In addition to his three children Maeanne, Joan and Mark Anthony, he is survived by his beloved wife, Maxima, and his brother, Alfonso, who also works with Kvaerner here. His departure was sad and unexpected. He leaves many countless friends, both here and in the Philippines.
